Keynote Speakers

Monday, September 9th

11:15 AM - 12:15 PM

Darrell Armstrong, DDiv (Honorary), MDiv

The Reverend Darrell Armstrong is a civic leader, a grassroots community organizer, and a child welfare and family strengthening advocate. Elected as the pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church in Trenton, NJ in 2000, he is only the third pastor over the last 100+ years in church history. He was named the 2014 recipient of the Casey Foundation’s Excellence for Children Award, which is reserved for those once in foster care.

Rev. Armstrong believes learning is a lifelong endeavor and a mutual process. His training at Stanford University (BA in public policy), Princeton Theological Seminary (MDiv), and The College of New Jersey (EdS in Marriage and Family Therapy) have uniquely prepared him to be a respected voice in the national and international child welfare and family strengthening communities. He views his calling as a global ministry that works to make families stronger by equipping them with lessons of hope and resilience.

In 2001, he carried the Olympic torch for the Winter Olympic Games in Salt Lake City, a run he dedicated to the nation's 600,000 foster children. In 2005, he was featured on a national PBS special entitled "Faith and Family in America," which discussed the role of the church in family services. In 2009, he gave the opening prayer for the US House of Representatives.

Workshop #B5 Engaging Faith Leaders as Champions for Prevention
Tuesday, September 10th

8:45AM - 9:45AM
How to Reduce Stress, Survive and Thrive with Humor

Emily Ballance, MEd, LPC, CSP

Emily Ballance, MEd, LPC, CSP is a nationally recognized speaker who entertains, educates and inspires audiences across the country with her humor, honesty and lively stories. She frequently presents to educational, financial, health and child care associations and organizations on stress management, generations, self-care, communication and customer service. More information is available at www.emilyballance.com.

A member of the National Speakers Association (NSA) and Global Speakers Association, Emily has earned the Certified Speaking Professional designation, the highest earned designation awarded by NSA. Women who have earned the CSP designation make up less than 8% of the membership of NSA.

Emily earned a Master of Education degree and a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor and the author of numerous humor and health-related articles.

Emily believes humor that heals is an essential part of a healthy self-care program for everyone, especially for those at risk for burnout. Her entertaining and upbeat presentation will include humorous stories, jokes, music, practical strategies, and a few surprises. She can’t wait to see you there!

Workshop #E7 Self-Care for Resilience, Health and Well-Being
Monday, September 9th

Workshop Series A, 9:30 AM - 11:00 AM

A1. What Makes a Multidisciplinary Team Function Smoothly and Efficiently?

KLEC Pending

Kimberly Henderson Baird, Office of the Commonwealth's Attorney, Fayette County; Terry Jackson, Silverleaf Services; Teresa E. Logsdon, Office of the Commonwealth's Attorney, Hardin County; Detective Sergeant Christina Priddy, Hardin County Sheriff's Office; Sara Tovar, RN, Hardin Hospital

From navigating conflict to ensuring the best possible services for children and families, this session will explore the strengths and challenges of the Multidisciplinary Team (MDT) model, learn to build capacity and skills to assist in MDT functioning, and develop an understanding on how effective communication and relationship-building can improve team collaboration.

A2. Engaging Fathers in Primary, Secondary and Tertiary Child Abuse Prevention

Cheri Langley, PhD, MPA, CHES and Armon R. Perry, PhD, MSW, University of Louisville, Kent School of Social Work

This workshop will provide attendees with content related to ways in which engaged fathering can serve primary, secondary and tertiary child abuse prevention.

A3. Online Sexual Exploitation: Current Trends, Prevention Tips and Tools

Major Jeremy Murrell, Kentucky State Police, Electronic Crime Branch, Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force, Prevent Child Abuse Kentucky Board Member

SPONSORED BY:

This presentation will provide an overview of internet crimes committed against Kentucky's children, and how we can minimize this threat. Participants will learn to recognize, prevent and report online predator behavior.

A4. Empowering Adults to Work with Children Exposed to Batterers and Trauma

Kristie Nicholson Adams, MEd, Family Scholar House

SPONSORED BY:

This presentation will provide an overview of children exposed to violence, information on working with children in a trauma-informed way, using a two generational approach, and will include activities that can be included in any classroom. Other practices will be introduced including mindfulness, grown mind-set and consistency.

A5. Identifying and Responding to Victims of Human Trafficking

Allyson Cox Taylor, JD, Director of Child Abuse and Human Trafficking Prevention and Prosecution Office of the Attorney General

SPONSORED BY:

This workshop will provide insight into what human trafficking really is, how you can help identify child victims, and how you can get them help.

A6. Hiding in Plain Sight: Current Drug and Alcohol Trends of Teens

Trooper Robert Purdy, Public Affairs Officer, Post 7 - Richmond, Kentucky State Police

When it comes to drugs and alcohol, teens often exhibit some of the riskiest behavior compared to other age groups. This course is designed to educate community leaders, caregivers and professionals working with teens on current drug trends affecting our youth and the technological advancement in the drug and alcohol world which make detection difficult.
Monday, September 9th
Workshop Series B, 1:30 PM - 3:00 PM

B1. What You Need to Know About Child Physical Abuse

Melissa L. Currie, MD, Chief and Medical Director, Kosair Charities Division of Pediatric Forensic Medicine, Professor of Pediatrics, Board-Certified Child Abuse Pediatrician

The ability to differentiate between typical and concerning injuries is a critical skill for child serving professionals when it comes to child physical abuse. This workshop will provide a review of suspicious injuries often associated with maltreatment, an overview of the mechanism of injury, and strategies to determine if the injury is consistent with the reported cause of the injury.

B2. Hiding in Plain Sight
Trooper. Robert Purdy, Public Affairs Officer, Post 7, Kentucky State Police

THIS IS A REPEAT OF WORKSHOP A6

B3. Learn the Signs Act Early: Celebrating Developmental Milestones with Families
Christine Hausman, MEd and Kate Dean, MA, Child Care Aware, University of Kentucky

Explore resources from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s “Learn the Signs, Act Early” initiative to encourage families to track their child’s developmental milestones by using a variety of free tools including the Milestone Tracker app. Parents are encouraged to ‘act early’ if they suspect their child may have any concerns by speaking with their child’s doctor about additional supports that may be available.

B4. Piecing Together an Accurate Diagnosis in Children
Kelli McCormick, LPCC-S, NCC, LCADC, MAC, ICAADC and Scottiann McLain, LPCC-S, Ramey-Estep Homes/Re-Group

This training will guide new and seasoned clinicians through an effective process of diagnosing, including ensuring collection of all data needed and evaluation of the whole picture in order to develop a precise and accurate diagnosis for our clients. The importance and process of ongoing assessment and periodic updates to diagnoses will also be reviewed.

B5. Engaging Faith Leaders as Champions for Prevention
Darrell Armstrong, DDiv (Honorary), MDiv, Pastor and Child Welfare/Family Strengthening Advocate

Families face complex issues such as poverty, drug and alcohol use, and violence. Faced with these risk issues, it is increasingly difficult for families to meet the safety and wellbeing needs of their children. The faith community plays an important role in strengthening families, and building protective factors which mitigate these risks. This workshop will review practical frameworks supporting the urgent need to engage faith leaders of all denominations and traditions as champions for prevention.

Michelle Elison, Partnership Specialist, U.S. Census Bureau

Young children are the most under counted age group in the census - in the 2010 census, an estimated 8,000 Kentucky children were missed. Learn about free resources available to community partners to help ensure a complete and accurate count for Kentucky in 2020.

B7. Corporal Punishment: Trends, Myths, and Alternatives
Kelly L. Dauk, MD, University of Louisville, Department of Pediatrics, Prevent Child Abuse Kentucky Board Member

This workshop will review recent trends in corporal punishment and discuss myths and common arguments for its use. Participants will become familiar with alternatives to corporal punishment for use with different age groups.
Monday, September 9th
Workshop Series C, 3:15 PM - 4:45 PM

C1. A Multidisciplinary Approach to Child Abuse Investigations

SPONSORED BY:
Christina Howard, MD, Chief, Division of Pediatric Forensic Medicine, University of Kentucky; Trooper Ronald Gilbert, Kentucky State Police

In this course, a child abuse pediatrician and law enforcement officer will go over key steps in a child abuse investigation by using real-life examples. A focus will be learning about key injuries or symptoms and using the multidisciplinary approach.

C2. Community Based Strategies for Preventing Child Neglect
Anita Barbee, PhD, MSSW, Professor and Distinguished University Scholar, Kent School of Social Work, University of Louisville, Children's Bureau Quality Improvement Center on Workforce Development Lead Evaluator, International Association for Relationship Research President-Elect

SPONSORED BY:
Neglect is the most common form of maltreatment, including fatal and near fatal maltreatment. This workshop will discuss prevalence and safety/risk factors associated with chronically neglectful families, while reviewing evidence-informed strategies to identify and intervene with at-risk families.

C3. Understanding Typical Child Development: A Tool to Prevent Child Sexual Abuse
Karen Feldmanis, Home of the Innocents

Oftentimes, parents and caregivers do not understand when and how to discuss sexual abuse with children. Participants will understand the typical stages of child development and learn how to help caregivers talk to their children about healthy sexual development as a tool to prevent child sexual abuse.

C4. What Providers Should Know About Opioids and Children: From a Medical Perspective
Jaime Pittenger, MD, UK HealthCare, PCAK Board President

SPONSORED BY:
This workshop will discuss the impact opioids have on children and their medical outcomes from conception to adulthood.

C5. Homelessness in Families and Children: What it Looks Like and the Needed Response
Adrienne Bush, MPA, Homeless and Housing Coalition of Kentucky; Shainey Marcus, MSW, Frankfort Independent Schools Social Worker/Guidance Counselor; and Shelley Werner, MS, Families in Transition Coordinator, Erlanger Elsmere Schools

This session will provide an overview of child and family homelessness and its intersection with child abuse and neglect issues from state and local homeless service providers.

Noel E. Hengelbrok, MSc and Scott J. Modell, PhD, Collaborative Safety, LLC

SPONSORED BY:
This session will explore the use of human factors and systems safety (safety science) in child welfare. Some of the most safety critical industries (aviation, nuclear energy, healthcare) have championed these efforts in their respective industries to update their models of safety to depart from surface level understandings of how systems fail and seek out the complex interplay of systemic factors.
Tuesday, September 10th

Workshop Series D, 10:00 AM - 11:30 AM

D1. Pediatric Abusive Head Trauma

Melissa L. Currie, MD, Chief Medical Director, Kosair Charities Division of Pediatric Forensic Medicine, Professor of Pediatrics, Board-Certified Child Abuse Pediatrician; Erika Janes, RN, Injury Prevention Coordinator, Safe Kids Louisville and Norton Children's Hospital Prevention and Wellness

Kentucky statute requires education on the identification and prevention of Pediatric Abusive Head Trauma. Meeting this mandate, this training addresses recognition, intervention, and prevention of abusive head trauma.

D2. Understanding the Families First Act and the Child Welfare Transformation: How it Applies to Your Work

Jessica Brown, MSW and Jennifer Warren, MSSW, Department for Community Based Services, Cabinet for Health and Family Services

An overview of the recently passed Families First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) and Child Welfare Transformation (CWT) will be discussed, with attention given to how it applies to participants' work.

D3. Situational Awareness: Two Words that Can Keep You and Your Kids Safe

John Moberly, Commissioner and Mike Littrell, PhD, CCME, ENCE, Department of Criminal Investigations, Kentucky Office of the Attorney General

We see the headlines, hear the news and know the dangers; the realities stare us in the face every day. Come hear one of KY’s foremost experts on situational awareness share concrete tips on how to prevent tragedy from striking you and your loved ones. This workshop will bring awareness to how we can identify predatory behavior and how our response can keep ourselves and our children safe.

D4. Continuing the Conversation: Understanding Cultural Collisions

Edward L. Palmer, Sr, Subcommittee on Equity and Justice for All Youth, Administrative Office of the Courts, Senior Pastor, Sign of the Dove Church

This workshop provide participants with an overview of the importance of cultural competency and how demonstrating this supports effective decision making and promotes engagement when serving families from a wide variety of backgrounds.

D5. Strengthening Communications with Families: Building Trust Using the Strengths-based Perspectives

Krystal K. Layne and Melissa Sparks, Clark County Health Department

Learn how the words we use can support or be a barrier to our professional relationship with families. This workshop will explore the strengths-based perspective and how it impacts work with families.

Kevan "Bullitt" Agee, Dave "Poppy" Rupp and Charles "Hoot" Gibson, Bikers Against Child Abuse International, Derby City Chapter

Bikers Against Child Abuse (B.A.C.A.) is working to empower children so they do not fear the world in which they live. This workshop will help participants understand what B.A.C.A. is, how it works, why it works and how to get B.A.C.A. involved.

D7. Creating a Recovery Oriented System of Care through Innovative Programming and Community Connections

Holly Dye, MRC and Amy Preston, MSW, CSW, University of Kentucky Beyond Birth Comprehensive Recovery Center

This session will provide information about the federal Plan of Safe Care requirements and how the Beyond Birth Comprehensive Recovery Center at the University of Kentucky is creating a recovery-oriented system of care through an outpatient addiction treatment program for women with children age zero to five. The program offers treatment and community connections women need to safely parent children while receiving medical and behavioral services they need to live a life in recovery.
Tuesday, September 10th
